I've been watching you and all you do
For quite some time
Knowing all the ins and outs of you
I should've known what was on your mind

But all the world is spinning round and round
Inside my head tonight
I will fall into the darkness
And I fear I will never see the light

I've been watching you and all you do
For quite some time
Knowing all the ins and outs of you
I should've known what was on your mind

But all the world is spinning round and round
Inside my head tonight
I will fall into the darkness
And I fear I will never see the light, the light

So let me in
All that I wanted from you
Was something you'd never do
So let me in
Oh, please tonight
Don't let this end tonight
I'll fall

Through no light the darkness seems to be
So very strong
How does one alone against the world
Find the strength to carry on?

What happened to the way we used to love
It seemed as though life had just begun
But now that love has come and gone to fade away
Like the setting sun

'Cause you won't let me in
All that I wanted from you
Was something you'd never do
So let me in

Oh, please tonight
Don't let this end tonight
'Cause I'm starting to fall
So let me in

It was all that I wanted from you
It was something you never knew
To let me in
But not tonight
For this is the end tonight
I fall
