Hopeless and alone
Fragile mind try to carry on
But our lives are carved in stone
We take the riches and hold our own.

It's 5 AM and I am spent

We try hard to have a little faith
But we're too smart to believe those ways
If it's true god can hear me when I pray
Then he's too smart to show his face

Filling up my soul with make-believe and alcohol
I feel my shaking bones telling me to change it all

Now it's 10 PM, and I have sinned

We try hard to have a little faith
But we're too smart to believe those ways
If it's true god can hear me when I pray
Then he's too smart to show his face

We try hard to have a little faith
But we're too smart to believe those ways
If it's true god can hear me when I pray
Then he's too smart
