When you walk out on the street it is always quite important to look both ways before crossing and i once knew a boy whose mother never taught him well he stepped off the curb and got knocked down by a suburban he spent fours days in a coma, his mom and dad stood over his hospital bed the nurse brought in a plastic bag for his shit the neurologist did a few tests and on the fifth day he died his sister didn't even cry and i guess she didn't love him anyways
