"Morning In The Moonlight"

I'm all out of time
Watching a swaying tide
Tomorrow has died
Guess no one gets out alive
The moonlight in the morning sun
Sends shivers over my skin
My memories are slowly slipping
And I'm sailing against the wind
Madness ensues
Swimming in ocean blues
The dream-dripping sky
Covers my insides
The moonlight in the morning sun
Sends shivers over my skin
My memories are slowly slipping
And I'm sailing against the wind
The moonlight in the morning sun
Sends shivers over my skin
My memories are slowly slipping
And I'm sailing against the wind
