Could you tell me the next time that you're choking?
I'll run right over to shove some dirt right down your throat
It's nothing I have against you, you're just a creep
And you can't remember the last five years

What's a bond if it dissolves in water?
I took a piss that lasted longer
Than you and your manipulations
I called my mom last night
She said, "Sweetie, you don't need someone Who's more fleeting than fall", no

Don't you love those leaves?
Don't you wish the orange stayed forever
And crickets sang in the night
All through winter?

And I thought, slow down, think of all the time this jerk
Has fucked you up and left you down
And hey, I choose my company by the beating of their hearts
Not the swelling of their heads, no

Don't you love those leaves?
Don't you wish the orange stayed forever
And crickets sang in the night
All through winter?

Besides, I'd rather forget the days we spent
Than try to stay afloat in shallow water
Rather forget the days we spent
Try to stay afloat in

Rather forget the days we spent
Try to stay afloat in shallow water
Rather forget the days we spent
Try to stay afloat in

Rather forget the days we spent
Try to stay afloat in shallow water
Rather forget the days we spent

Try to stay afloat in

Rather forget the days we spent

Try to stay same
