"Distant Adoring"

close your eyes
my ambivalent martyr cast dreams within dreams into oceans of hope and heart

you don't need to worry
i'm not here to let this go you're glistening eyes and wavering voice question pending consequences remember it's not our choice to make here

i'm falling deeper and i just wanted you to know my guiding star

no matter how far apart
i remain yours

on the backs of my eyelids your portrait is painted wings torn and feathers singed my battle worn seraphin i'll heal your wounds just let me prove that our science defies the distance that keeps us apart

i'm just hitting harder and i just wanted you know
