good morning
what's got in to you
the world is gonna be better and you will see it through

it's easy you see
you've got to be
a happy young being
and i will see

that you be united inside
good all the time
you don't have to decide

cause i have a power
to make your mind clear making it always right to never dwell on your wrongs

it's time to sit back and forget all your problems from now on
while the world is full of my song

look at all the people,
struggling to find
that thing of ages

i've got for you

look at the way seasons change look at the way sunshine and rain it all revolves round
your mind, heart and soul

something will drop
soon
