when the blues came today i felt some decay in my own belief lost that feeling of peace keep the calling at bay

'til i've had my say in all talks pollution in the latest illusion

the blues keep the beat the blues make me weep the blues fall each week the blues in my world and the blues took the stage during my fallen age when all was distraught and disturbing yeh, you know how i feel deep down, deep down

i'm keeping the memory clear of those golden years those light loving years how i wish they'd advise me cause the blues are in my world

i wanna feel those things again
the things you showed me since then i've never felt as much what's happening to me

i'm going crazy

my life's in the name of all that is good
of all that is sane

of all we became our love

i wanna feel those things again the things you showed me since then i've been so out of touch and i'm going crazy

do you want me to lose?
