Jumpin' up and down and foolin' around

Is it ever any wonder that you get knocked down?

Comin' down fast gonna pass you on the right

I loved you before but now I turn in the night

Why, you never seem to try, why, you never seem to try

Moving down the way and getting lost, blackness is a place in my mind

The less that you know is the more that you learn

Is there any point in knowledge when you're old and infirm

Why, you never seem to try, why, you never seem to try

[Incomprehensible]

I've never been the type to sing all night but, aah

I've never been the type to sing all night but, aah

I've never been the type to sing all night but, aah

Sitting on your bed being balanced on your head, rolling back those fears

The loose lipped trouble dutch double on the monkey

You can see it on his face when you hear it in his voice

Why, you never seem to try, why, you never seem to try

Why, you never seem to try

I've never been the type to sing all night but, aah

I've never been the type to sing all night but, aah

I've never been the type to sing all night but, aah

I've never been the type to sing all night but, aah

[Incomprehensible]

How the West was won, it's a lie but it's made to sound
like fun

How the West was won, it's a lie but it's made to sound
like fun

How the West was won, it's a lie but it's made to sound
like fun

How the west was won
