There's a light through the grey
And it's you
And if you can't see the way
I will show you
I'll wipe the dust from your eyes
So you can see
And if you're cold I'll bring you warmth
If you'll let me

And I will shelter you through the storms
And I will come for you
And I will cover you

When the world comes crashing down
We will rebuild
And when the room starts to spin
I will hold it still

And I will shelter you through the storms
And I will come for you
And I will cover you

So tell me does it get any better than this?
When I touch your hand, when we kiss
So tell me does it get any better than this
Coz I can't see it

And I will shelter you through the storms
And I will come for you
And I will cover you

So tell me does it get any better than this?
