After all that's been said and done
And the words fall away
There's a feeling of falling
As my eyes, they look your way

Now the world's spinning faster
Taking my breath away
But my two hands are dirty
And I don't know what to say

Coz you take my breath away
And a million words just can't explain
Why I'm safe in your arms, Safe in your arms
Where the world can't get to me
You take my breath away
And a million words just can't explain
Why I'm safe in your arm, Safe in your arms
And the world just fades away

In the quiet I feel you
As the world fades to grey
And in silence I'll sit here
Until I see your face

And you take my breath away
And a million words just can't explain
Why I'm safe in your arms, Safe in your arms
Where the world can't get to me
You take my breath away
And a million words just can't explain
Why I'm safe in your arm, Safe in your arms
And the world just fades away

And I am lost in you, Overwhelmed
I'm overwhelmed by you
And I'll run to your arms where I'm overwhelmed
Hidden inside you
And you hold me in your hands
And I'm safe in you
And you hold me in your arms

As you take my breath away
And all I have that's left of me
Is safe in your arms, Safe in your arms
Where the world can't get to me
And you take my breath away
And I'm safe in your arm, Safe in your arms
And the world just fades away
