Silent mouth, screaming mind
Stitch it shut one more time
Write it with a silent pen
They'll be so much happier in the end

Silent mouth, aching eyes
You'd never know that this was not the first time
Act as if I'm still surprised
As I watch your truth turn to blatant lies

Can't let it out, can't can't, can't let it out
Keep keep it in, don't don't let it out
Can't let it out, can't can't let them in
Don't say a word, don't say anything

Yes Sir, no Sir, three bags full
The line, the line is re-drawn for the ninth time
And if you've had enough this glass could be half full
But you'll cross the line, so here comes the tenth time

If I'm screaming you'll never know, I'll keep it in Till the cracks begin to show
And I'm still waiting for that day but it's too late
I couldn't say it in the first place

Can't let it out, can't can't, can't let it out
Keep keep it in, don't don't let it out
Can't let it out, can't can't let you in
Don't say a word, don't say anything

Can't let it out
Keep keep it in
Can't get it out
Don't say a word
Don't say anything.
