I lie awake sleepless nights
How I ache and yearn for you
Though deep down, yes I know
That we're through, you've moved on
And replaced, wiped away
I've been replaced
Though I can't seem to find, just a small piece of mind
Cause it's true, I miss you

And wherever I go, despite what I say
My heart remains yours
By your side it stays
It's hard to forget
The life that I knew
There just doesn't seem
To be a me without you

I sit alone having lost
All we've grown through the years
That we spent unaware
What it meant, now I see Lying here, I'm confined
To solitary
I must go, with the pain won't subside
Or relent
So it seems, all our dreams

And wherever I go, despite what I say
My heart remains yours, by your side it stays
It's hard to forget
The life that I knew
There just doesn't seem
To be me without you

And I must forget the life that I knew
Your smile, your smell
Those eyes I gaze through
I stay the same, in love I remain
I long to be free, but you won't let me

And wherever I go, despite what I say

(oh despite what I say)
My heart remains yours, by your side it stays
It's hard to forget (it's hard to forget)
The life that I knew (the life that I knew)
There just doesn't seem
To be me without you

I lie awake sleepless nights (wherever I go)
How I ache and yearn for you (despite what I say) Though deep down, yes I know (my heart remains yours)
That we're through, you've moved on (by your side it stays)
And replaced, wiped away (and to forget)
I've been replaced (the life that I knew) Though I can't seem to find, just a small piece of mind (there just doesn't seem to be me without you)
Cause it's true, I miss you
