A few minutes away there is a shining wall,
Skadi walks on the edge throws icy mysteries out
Her memories have built a fortress it's catching me Comprehend the epiphany to break on through

Engrave yourself into this world

On a thin ground I skate upon the elements
I take her lore to rouse my privilege to dream
As I engrave into the wind, into the ice
My lightning will proceed to perpetuity

Engrave yourself into this world

Seek - sought me in me - no one I'll be but I'll be with me
Find - found me in you - somewhere you'll be and you'll be with me craving to

Engrave yourself into this world

[Background vocals:]

I engrave my brand into the skin surrounded by a guarding light
Illuminated from behind returning to an ancient site

I engrave my brand into the skin, a canvas to reveal the rite
Illuminated from behind proceed to perpetuity
