So she falls in the rain she falls

She's so pretty tonight
Life's unreal and phony now
She needs a hiding place to understand
What she is all about

So she falls in the rain she falls

She is lost in a cage of emotions
Where her shadow is reigning within
All she wants is a way to find out here
So she falls to uncover the silence

She's skipping on a switchblade
Holding on to the past
Life's keeping her in a twilight zone
All she wants is to come home

So she falls in the rain she falls

All she wants is a way to find out here
To uncover the silence
