

Betty Lenard"Soldier"

Visit "Soldier" on MotoLyrics.com

This is what you can remember
When you left to go away
You recalled to be a soldier
Marching 'cross a mighty land

It won't be easy to leave so much undone

Do you have to be a victim
Bearing empty promises
Or have you long been giving in
While the law enslaves the truth

You'll find your rainbow
You'll find your place to go

You're upon clouds - passing through your mind
Starting to see nothings left behind
You cry bitter tears to walls breaking down
You can't hold on to what's just been drowned

You wonder if your ragged shoes would carry you on this long way
Hypnotized as it starts to dawn you stand in awe and hear them moan
You come to pause on this old ground shed ya armor to cry out
That your time has come to leave this bloody heaven

Visit Betty Lenard page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.