Everybody's talking - nobody says a thing
Everybody's talking - nobody's listening
Brimstone hell and fire chase the lamb away
You can't see the heavens for the light of day

I find it oh so hard to believe
I find it oh so hard to be free
I find it oh so hard to be me
All for the light of the day
Dark times, dark minds, dark age

You angels shine your halos - you preachers grab your book
and mount your golden soapboxes to get a better look
But don't you let your high horse carry you too far away
You can't see the heavens for the light of day CH (solo)

Everybody's talking - nobody says a thing
Everybody's still talking - there ain't nobody listening
The brimstone hell and fire chase the lamb away
You can't see the heavens for the light of day
