Every morning I weak up next to you.
Every morning I try to find the piece in me
Every morning smell your hair, like an ocean breeze
Every morning , your eyes, shine like a thousand diamonds.

And I, won't be alone again
And I, will hold on 'til the end.

Everyday, I look into your eyes
Everyday, a little piece of me will shine
Everyday, everyday, theres nothing else

'cause I will hold on, 'til the end

And I, won't be alone again
And I, will hold on 'til the end.

[Instrumental]
Every evening, I try to dream
It's long time ago that I did that.
And every evening, I hold you, in my arms
And every evening, I hold on, another dying day
Blue leaves blow with the wind
