Are you ok?
I'm half awake, sitting here for days
Thinking about all the choices we've made
There's just no point in coming home
But I miss you

This distance is killing me. It's erasing my memory

Are you ok?
I'm half awake, with open eyes
Thinking about you, and the choices we made
Like a parasite, eating me away from the inside out

This distance is killing me. It's erasing my memory

The roads are closed, there's no way to go
I keep on driving until my eyes will close

So tell me, tell me, what is not alright
Tell me, tell me, what's not alright
And makes us feel this way

Just give me time, time to forget
All the choices I made and make me feel this way
But now I'm here and I've got you
I hope it's not gonna end again

This distance is killing me. It's erasing my memory
The roads are closed, There's no way to go
I keep on driving until my eyes will close
