If this was goodbye
What would you say to me?
Would you promise me
That you cared for me?

Would you lie?
And look into my eyes
And say honestly
You are all I need
Because I would sacrifice
This light before my eyes
For you, tonight
If I could cry
And bleed you from my eyes
Then possibly
There is hope for me

If we were to try
And leave all this behind
Would you ache for me?
Am I all you need?
Because I would sacrifice
This light before my eyes
For you, tonight
