There's plenty of time to make things right
Just don't close your eyes
Unfeathered inside as day turns night
Just don't close your eyes
It's getting hard to know
What dreams were like
Before you came
And turned them all to fear
Tell me now
Why we're so scared to dream that
We all lie awake 'til morning
It's time to make him proud
Dream your dreams tonight
We'll sever those ties that hold you tight
Together we'll fly
Initiate dreams that feel so right
Just you and I
It's getting hard to know
What dreams were like
Before you came
And turned them all to fear
Tell me now
Why we're so scared to dream that
We all lie awake 'til morning
It's time to make him proud
Dream your dreams tonight
Don't close your eyes
