Snap my back in two
Swallow all my teeth
Swallow all your love
This is sick

Leave me here to bleed
You're so proud of me
I'll succumb to this Again
Think twice before you leave me here to die
Think twice before you lead your children to the sky
Think twice before you kiss me goodnight
Because they will still remember what you've done to
me
Suffer this in vain
It's so cold
And I hate this place
And you
Cut out both my eyes
Just to play with them
I'm not scared of you
Only love

Watch him touching me
Watch him on his knees
Watch him changing me
Into dust

On your head
This death
You'll live
To regret
Think twice before you leave me here to die
Think twice before you lead your children to the sky
Think twice before you kiss me goodnight
Because they will still remember what you've done to
me
If someone had come to save me
I would grow to cut you down to size
The moment you let him near me
You became the devil in my eyes

Think twice before you leave me here to die
Think twice before you lead your children to the sky
Think twice before you kiss me goodnight
Because they will still remember what you've done to
me
