Look through my eyes behind my disguise and you'll find a place with no grace all there is left in this colorless room is the echo of sadness and blue hidden in a corner behind all the tears is a green spot with no fear it's a garden, a kind of Eden where I have spent most of my life dreaming

you'll find me here on my colorful trees picking the flowers of my destiny My futures are here but my past will remain killing the flowers of yesterdays pain

I'm nursing the truth of the season protecting my own illusion but it s so hard to take care of something that ain't really there, really there

picking the flowers of my destiny
killing the flowers of yesterdays pain
you'll find me here on my colorful trees
picking the flowers of my destiny

it's just my way to goodbye

picking the flowers of my destiny

picking the flowers of my destiny

for me it is just a kind of Eden
