"Still Falling, The Day After Tomorrow"

Last night I woke lost, scared and soaked in sweat I lay in bed still falling from a rooftop I'm still trying to get closer to who I am

Twilight descends into a dark velvet painting of my life although there's light redemption seems so distant enchant me with the courage to believe and grant me all the wisdom that I need I'm still trying to get closer to who I am

Who am I?

enchant me with the courage to believe
and grant me all the wisdom that I need grant me all the wisdom that I need enchant me with the courage to be free
