Changing, moving, in a circle
I can see your face in all of my dreams.
Smiling, laughing, from the shadows
When I hear your voice I know what it means.
I know it doesn't matter just how hard I try
You're all the reason for my life,
Disillusion, disillusion's all you left for me.

How can I forget you when my world is breaking down?
You're all I had, you're all I want,
Disillusion, disillusion now, that's all I have.
Wishing, hoping, chasing shadows
Did I see your face somewhere in the crowd?
Thinking, wondering, what you're doing
I can't stop myself from crying out loud.
They say my wound will heal and only leave a scar
But then, they'd never shared our love
Disillusion, disillusion's all you left for me.
How can I forget you when my world is breaking down?
You're all I had, you're all I want,
Disillusion, disillusion now, that's all I have.
Disillusion, disillusion now, that's all I have...
