Cheap bed, in the bed
Sleep the words out of your head
Cold floor, nice and raw
Eat the meat that's on the floor
High tide, some disguise
Loving makes the cream taste nice
New shore, final score
Fresh demand, I'm wanting more
This might not last too long
So always take it
This might not last too long
So always take it
Reasons, reasons were here from the start
It's my instinct, it's my instinct
Reasons, reasons are part of the art
It's my instinct, it's my instinct
You cry, justify
But deep beneath the feelings lie
Photo, looking old
Memory makes the day feel cold
They've gone, sing your song

Walk the flow, ah, too slow
Post boom, second doom
Stealing cake to eat the moon

This might not last too long

So always take it

This might not last too long

So always take it

Reasons, reasons were here from the start

It's my instinct, it's my instinct

Reasons, reasons are part of the art

It's my instinct, it's my instinct

Stealing cake to eat the moon
