Well I want you little angel and the feeling's quite Contagious
Girl you're gonna drive me crazy with the possibilities
You little angel, got me messing 'round with danger
Got me sleeping in with strangers, tasting impossibility

Dangerous friendships must end in tears
Dangerous phone calls; I shouldn't be here
Unspoken tension, minutes like years
Lean a little closer, let's face all our fears

And it only takes one night

Well I want you little angel and the feeling's quite

Contagious
Girl you're gonna drive me crazy with the possibilities
You little angel, got me messing 'round with danger
Got me sleeping in with strangers, tasting impossibility

Silence is golden when there's nothing to say
Well don't keep me waiting; I really can't stay
When you know the moment of truth is only moments away
Lean a little closer until the night becomes day

And it only takes one night
