When the rear vies vision ends
You start to comprehend
Ever since rush hour died
Rhythm and blues unite
Lines go both ways before they die

Another drive to hold on tight
The state you're in, you're in tonight
Another line to say you'll try
The state you're in, you're in tonight

You never fail to stop
You shift from side to side
You understand
From start to end
Let's go both ways before they end

Another drive to hold on tight
The state I'm in, I'm in tonight
Another line to say I'll try
The state we're in, we're in tonight

Proceed your showing off
And you will keep fucking up
We could use speed, we don't stop
I'm still trying to catch up
First things first, side to side
When rhythm and blues unite
The rear vies shift draws the line
The state we're in right now.
