For the cold pale women
I leave some of my goodness
I leave the veil of sin
And let go my dreams

Eternity follows me everywhere
Your words so hollow won't go anywhere
Distant shadows disappears
It searches the gate beyond the stars

And there I can see her again
Tell me why
You have to be so pure and wrong
And I'm alive to be here

Tell me why
You have to be so pure and wrong
And I'm alive to be here

Is it just an omen?
Is it me walking blindly?
I will find the answer
When I wake up from my dream

Eternity follows me everywhere
Your words so hollow won't go anywhere
Distant shadows disappears
It searches the gate beyond the stars

And there I can kill her again
Tell me why
You have to be so pure and wrong
And I'm alive to be here

Tell me why
You have to be so pure and wrong
And I'm alive to be here
