Last night I let a drink get the better of me
Last night my head already knew about today
You don't say, I have to pay the price for yesterday
All day,
And it's taking so long
Once again I'm in regret once again I stumble and fall

Ain't it just how it goes
We never do what's been told
We just have to find our own truth
And if it means I will fail
Then at least I have tried
Well isn't it just how it goes

You say, that I should take advice and change my way
Well okay, but don't expect too much, not right away
Once again I'm in regret once again I stumble and fall

Ain't it just how it goes
We never do what's been told
We just have to find our own truth
And if it means I will fail
Then at least I have tried
Well isn't it just how it goes

Once again I'm in regret
Once again I stumble and fall
Ain't it just how it goes
We never do what's been told
We just have to find our own truth
And if it means I will fail
Then at least I have tried
Well isn't it just how it goes
Isn't it just how it goes...
