One kiss became a weapon
And I don't want to bleed in vain
Clouds collide in the heavens
And I surrender to the rain

The death bells that also rang
Like madness from above
I'm going out with a bang, and a...
A heart disease called love

Ninety-nine below zero
Would seem like fever now
You know me, I'm no hero
Don't even ask me how.

I'm down in the deep deep freeze
What was I thinking of?
In the painful breeze
By the frozen trees, with a...
A heart disease called love

After dinner... mints... a new lover
And the coffee's so bitter and black
Your fingerprints... they cover
This knife sticking out of my back

You overlooked the fine details.
You should've worn your gloves
And now I've got a girl in jail
And a house for sale, and a...
