Please, please, please.
I'll leave, but I'll keep coming back
You watching me,
Morning whistle house
But you're not afraid of anything
I'm not afraid of anything now

So please, please, please.
I was gonna write you
But the ink spilled and then I changed my mind
There was a strong and silent type
Helping me that night
He was smiling and I was blind

So please, please, please

Melodica break

I stole a boat, bloodied my hands
And when I look at you,
I can see all I regret
I'd do anything just to see your smile again
But now that's all that I can try to forget

So please, please, please

Please, please, please
