I had a vision once down at Lake Foresight, of a
Beloved one
It was near midnight and a black swan had flown to the Circle one
Darkness embraces the night in a passionate war of Truth and false
Though I know it's not right, I can't help it, I'm Falling in love

I had a crimson dream
On a shadowy night laid in a meadowy field
You were whispering, telling me to return down the hill
I wish I could go, but I didn't know... and I have better
Things to do
I'll see you tomorrow, if you remind me so, I'll know
All of this is true

As evenfall blurs the sky, I get to the gate and I
Close my eyes
When the sunset dies my lovely dream becomes alive
Gentle wind: carry me... and never ever let me go
Bring me to the one I live for, settle me until the Morning comes

My fear has disappeared, now I know we'll meet again
After dark
Until the daylight breaks the charm and will surely
Tear us apart

I'll wait for you in the doorway that welcomes me to
The world in which you belong
I have so many things to say and before dawn I know
You'll be gone
