Later on, in the epilogue, they found him
Right now, the whole town is frightened
In the Bronx, when the guns go off we like it
We like it

No one gets out of here alive
In the melee there are many ways to cry
Who knows where the gunshots are coming from Those who've been picked off aren't saying much

And I shot you down
You never had a chance in hell
And I shot you down
And I felt no remorse cause
This heart's a stranger, and you love it 'cause it's dangerous like
This heart's a stranger, and you love it 'cause it's dangerous like yours

They tried to cut him down from there 65, 68, 93, 96 but he don't care
La la la la he's nowhere
La la la la he's nowhere

Oh!

And I shot you down
You never had a chance in hell
And I shot you down
And I felt no remorse 'cause
This heart's a stranger, and you love it 'cause it's dangerous like
This heart's a stranger and you love it 'cause it's
dangerous like yours

(Dangerous, dangerous, just like yours)
