

Mister Peculiar

"Reflections #3"

Visit "Reflections #3" on MotoLyrics.com

Afraid for the air that I breath I'm afraid for love Who carries me home in the night when the wind's so cold
And cradle me warmly and tightly makes me feel so strong
Even though what's in here's not the dream I thought

Sometimes it's enough that you change your point of view
And soon the answer is brought on a plate to you
But people prefer to pretend that something's good
Instead of face the fact and try to be more cruel

I don't like wasting time and let it go on Got to take out this rotten tooth once and for all Dangerous people have got to be left alone
Before let they kill your soul.

Visit Mister Peculiar page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.