All these years you turned your back on me
It took time but I know just what this means

And I feel so small when you take it all you push me away
when its said and done all this shit aint fun
I'll still be here

I've tried so hard to talk to you Lend an ear is something you can't do

And I feel so small when you take it all
you push me away
when its said and done all this shit aint fun
I'll still be here

Im here and standing tall but I feel so god damn hollow your ways, engrave, my brain, I follow my lips are sown up tight to stop the words I'll tell you My life, this time, I feel torn inside
I wanna take my fist and crush your perfect face!
I will, one day, I will un-mute the pain and then you'll see
What you've made

Why did you beat me down, why did you leave me... why did you push me away, you taught me how to fear I've never said these things I hide I hold these fucked up thoughts inside

And I feel so small when you take it all
you push me away
when its said and done all this shit aint fun
I'll still be here

Im here and Im standing tall but I feel so god damn hollow
your ways, engrave, my brain, I follow
my lips are sown up tight to stop the words I'll tell you My life, this time, I feel all torn inside
I wanna take my fist and crush your perfect face!
I will, one day, I will un-mute the pain

and then you'll see
What you've made

All the pain we've shared
How I can't stand you
All these goddamn years
They pass me by and I'm still right here

I pretend I care
Through these lost years
How I can't stand you
But I'm still right here
