The hot seat's vacant cos he gave up the reins

He's kissed his title goodbye run far away

He's gone to ground in some hole - I don't know where

All I know is somehow that I'm big man up here

I don't need your worship

Just need a sacrifice each day

No need to worry

Just want to help in every way

I just don't know what all these levers are for

I don't know it but I'm reasonably sure

I've got a red light warning - I don't know why

Maybe it will go away if I close my eyes

I don't need your worship

Just need a sacrifice each day

No need to worry

Just want to help in every way

Help every day

In every way

I don't know what's come over me

I'm really feeling rather strange

I got no time for wisdom cos I'm the fool

I got no time for those who won't obey my rules

Some day I won't be teacher - I don't know when

But I'm gonna please myself until then

I don't need your worship

Just need a sacrifice each day

No need to worry

Just want to help in every way

Help every day

In every way
