We sat on a curb after a party
And I'll never forget how she looked at me so sweet
We traded thoughts we traded secrets
And I never thought I'd ever find
A girl that made me so complete

I can remember the taste of our first kiss
I can't remember a time I felt like this
She don't care that I'm always broke
And she always laughs at my dumb jokes

I can remember the time that we first met
I can remember the first words that you said
She must have stolen the stars and set them in her eyes
Cause she blinds me with her smile
Everthing is alright

I haven't felt this good in so long
And I never felt something ever feel so right
And I've been away for a while
I can't wait to see her smile
And I'm driving home so far from here
And I hope I get to see her tonight

I can remember the taste of our first kiss
I can't remember a time I felt like this
She don't care that I'm always broke
And she always laughs at my dumb jokes

I can remember the time that we first met
I can remember the first words that you said
She must have stolen the stars and set them in her
eyes
Cause she blinds me with her smile
Everthings alright
