Who made you God?
You tell me now what gives a woman the right
The right to take an unborns life
But who the fuck are you to decide
Or to tell her what is right?

This shit rolls out of your mouth again
I don't even see you try to understand
Or try to help her

Who made you God to decide
What is right for her
I don't see you trying to change
Who decides whats right for this young scared girls life?
It should be her decision
Maybe in this case there's no wrong or right but it shouldn't be a fight

So you bomb another clinic
Who made you God?
What gives you the right to take another's life
At your own discretion
It's time to make that change
