I see these people everyday
These zombie like lab rats just wasting away
And what I see its not for me
Youre really not living
Youre barely existing

Im trying hard to think for myself
And I wont waste away
Im living for today
Youre rules were meant to break
And I wont waste away
Youre really not living
Youre barely existing

And luxury is what you make it
Its what you enjoy and what you take for granted
I cant agree with how were acting
Theres too much going on and not enough reaction
But Ive been there myself Ive been there before
You cant close youre eyes
Its never going to go away
The world wont stop turning without you
Youre rules were meant to break
Youre really not living
Youre barely existing

I wont waste away
I wont waste away
