"All You Have"

All those times we spent together were good enough to Call times,
Competing with each other,
The big wheel race at the mall,
When you want it all,
Will you spend your time off tomorrow?
Things are all I find,
And they're not always mine,
Running out of time,
I'm stepping out of line,
Stepping out of place,
But you won't be there tomorrow,
See if I'm here now,
I guess that change is always better,
It didn't leave me down,
But I'm glad,
Sometimes that sits alone,
So I'm living well,
Because time is all you have
