I used to be a little bit brighter
In the morning until I got older
Set the alarm
Kept breaking my arms
And the bed kept moving further away
I started seeing a world of Machines
Everybody grab a hold
And parade around in your car
Should we buy the house or the car
Let's by the car
Won't get too far

I'm on the plane back
To the beginning of the end
It's not about what you need to know
You've got to think and remember what you already know

Sometimes I can't decide what things I like
Sometimes I can't help but be less a person

It's what I know
Since I've already started
I'll go, I'll go, I'll go with it
Hey, hey, hey, hey, hey, hey, hey, hey, hey, hey!

I used to be a little bit brighter
In the morning
Until I got tired
That's how it started
And now I am here and I am gone
Ohhh

Everybody's seen it
Everybody's seen it
And they know
It's not hard to believe in
If you think that it's real
You should that it's for real
If you think that it's real
You should that it's for real

If you think that
