You knew my destiny let this happen to me. the highest level of deceit. how could this be? you inflicted this upon me. with no conscience you took my love from me. my other half. did i hear you laugh? you don't know my pain but you will soon. cause vengance is sweet and mine comes in vain. forgive me not for i know damn well what i do. my soul feels void because of you. forgive me not for i know damn well what i do. my soul feels void because of you. fuck up your plans, that's what i'll do. could have been different between me and you. you chose this path for the both of us. now it's important that we discuss nothing cause i don't want to hear your voice. fuck up your plans, that's my choice. how could you create something you don't understand and have for them to be what you have planned? they don't deserve ever to be damned. they can't help the feelings they have. forgive me not for i know damn well what i do. my soul feels void because of you. forgive me not for i know damn well what i do. my soul feels void because of you. gun to the head. rope around the neck. razor to the wrist. the feelings they have they can't resist. that's why i am here to help while you sit and think of your fucking self.
