"Purpose Of The Moon"

For a while - saw you in the neighborhood
All the time - dressing up and looking good
Then you went away - joining in the human race
Now you play the game - always have to keep the pace

So what's the news baby
Don't wait until the day of doom
I've got the blues baby
'Cause I see you growing old too soon
So what's the use baby
Nice picture in an empty room
I'm just a fool baby
But you forgot the purpose of the moon

Every day - further from the innocence
Far away - closer to the journey's end
Baby stop a while - can't you see you have been blind
Won't you take some time - turn around and make me smile
