It's a mark I wear so well giving me a proof that there's Room to grow. Accepting the fact all the others have Changed I know who I stay the same. A narrow path in Which I lead always to remain going at my own speed.
Opinions that don't decay learning how to accept the Things I could never change. I continue to grow (x2).

But

Staring down the belly of the beast isn't as easy as it Used to be. the behemoth takes its toll on all I thought I knew. Haunting my life and stealing my time it all Comes together in my mind and I know what awaits me in

The shadows of my everyday I stand for what I believe I Won't turn my back on my beliefs. This is my life. Proud Of who I am and who I remain to be the one person that Won't ever forget me and if there's came a time something

Were to change it would only be the way others refer to Me. Distant is abandonment so close is my commitment
