"Time Trials"

Taking me from the inside out breaking me down without a Doubt. I try to find freedom in the simplest of things.
But something seems to grab a hold of me it fuels my Rage, it feeds my hate as I lay down and wait for someone To lift me up. A person that's yet to come pushing to Surrender myself giving up all of my hope a martyr to the Common man lost in the desert sands. My throat so dry I Can not speak as these time trials continue to compromise
Me. a list of all promises I couldn't keep continuing to Fall into a deeper sleep. A cold sweat wakes me up again Leading me right back to where I had begun. I can only Say these time trials won't define me
