With nothing to say,
We're ghosts that occupy a space,
Barely here

We're starting to trust,
The hurt is spilling out of us,
Through the tears

The fragile affair,
It's turning into solitaire,
We're full of fair

We need to adjust,
We're losing every part of us,
We disappear

Faith, where have you gone?
Was it me that made it all wrong?
Faith, where have you gone?
I thought I knew where I belong
Faith, where have you gone?
Where do I start so I can go on?
Faith, where have you gone?
Lord, give me faith so I can be strong

Remember our lives,
When we were never out of time?
Our devise

Like stars in the night,
We'd shimmer from the greatest height,
Two satellites

But look at us now,
We're bruising like a stormy cloud,
We've compromised

All that we vowed
Has tumbled lika a crown
From you and I

Faith, where have you gone?
Was it me that made it all wrong?
Faith, where have you gone?
I thought I knew where I belong
Faith, where have you gone?
Where do I start so I can go on?
Faith, where have you gone?
Lord, give me faith so I can be strong

Love needs so much faith

Faith, where have you gone?
Was it me that made it all wrong?
Faith, where have you gone?
Where do I start so I can go on?
Faith, where have you gone?
Lord, give me faith so I can be strong

So I'll search until I find some truth
