"Journey's End"

Sky-lines change, memories still remain,
Some friends stay, some make their escape.

I've walked these streets, I've known this place too
Long,
And since you've gone, got used to being alone...

I think about you, from time to time,
From summer's shower, till winter's sunshine.

You can't stop time, hard as you might try,
We're not here long, and then you're gone...

(Rest)

I meant to tell you. meant to hold you more,
I meant to change, meant to mend my ways...

I miss the sound of your key in the door,
I miss you telling me, how your day has gone...

We can't stop time, hard as we might try,
We're not here long, and then you're gone...

You can't stop time, hard as you might try,
We're not here long, and then you're gone...
