Somehow, somehow we've got to get out of here she says.

Her eyes aglow in the brightest shades tonight
From just across the room I see you,
And you're staring back at me.
You motion to the door and I make my way over.

Hey, what are you looking for? She says.
I think that I'm looking for you.

Today's the day i'm gonna get out of here, she says.
I've got to know, can you come with me tonight?
From just the across the room I see you,
And you're staring back at me.
You motion to the door and I make my way over.

She stands in the aisle way and I never could stand up
for much,
But the moment that I saw her face.
I couldn't believe I ever thought of giving up,
And with one look we were on our way.
We're on our way to wherever it is we'll go,
And with one look we were on our way.
We're on our way.
