Oh hello nadine how are you feeling today?
So why are you calling?
Said everything I had to say
My ears tell me secrets would you like your final bouquet
Everything is a-ok
And we all wish that you would stay away at least a day.
So why are you calling?
You sound so infantile you crawl like a crabbit
Some one should boil you alive
A magnet to steel wool to scrape your shell away.
Everything is a-ok
And we all wish that you would stay away at least a day.
Why don't you disintegrate
Cause we'd all love to see you rot away into the grave
nadine...
The glass breaks the sudden movement
Everything I thought was beauty suffocates wide awake
nadine...
